

Mr CJ (Hans) Meiring named as CEO of Oman Cables Industry (SAOG)

Oman Cables Industry (SAOG) has announced the elevation of Mr. CJ (Hans) Meiring to the position of Chief Executive Officer of Oman Cables Industry (SAOG) with immediate effect. In his new position he will report to Mr. Hussain Salman, Vice Chairman & Managing Director of the Company.

While making the announcement Hussain Salman said, “As the CEO of Oman Cables, Mr Hans Meiring has shown exceptional leadership in building sustainability into the company. He has contributed extensively in enhancing operational efficiencies, made technological improvements, successfully set-up a joint venture to manufacture aluminium rods and overhead line conductors, expanded operations vigorously to further OCI’s Global reach. He was responsible for BASEC accreditation for quality management and product certification. I am confident that Oman Cables, its people and all stake holders will benefit from his leadership.”

Commenting on his promotion, Hans Meiring said “Oman Cables is a dynamic and successful company with a great future. The founder Mr Mustafa Mukhtar Ali Al Lawati, Chairman of the Company, has inspired us to achieve more than anyone thought possible in the region, and I am truly honoured to follow in his footsteps. At Oman Cables, employees are assigned with Responsibility and not just a job. We as a team, achieved excellent financial results for the year 2009. We are working on our strengths to make 2010 another significant year for the company. Our employees, business partners and all stakeholders can expect that its business philosophy and strategic focus to make Oman Cables a “Truly Omani.....trusted Globally” company.”