

NBO seminar on trade finance products

MUSCAT — National Bank of Oman (NBO) recently organised a seminar on trade finance products for the staff of Oman Cables Industry (SAOG) at NBO's Training Centre. The seminar covered a number of issues concerned with trade finance and trade related risks. The seminar was conducted by Ramalingam Murugan, head of trade services at the National Bank of Oman.

Speaking on this occasion, Khalfan Abdullah Al Afri, NBO deputy general manager and head of operation services who inaugurated the seminar stated that this played a critical role in improving the quality of trade finance by enhancing skills of the participants and introducing them to the best practices in this field.

Meanwhile, M. Vaidyanathan, general manager and Jehangir H. Pardiwalla, financial controller of Oman Cables Industry highlighted the importance of the seminar in the present scenario and urged the participants to make the most of this opportunity to increase their skills in handling complex trade transactions in order to further enhance their market share of exports as well as the domestic business in the Sultanate.

Concluding the seminar, Hans Meiring, chief operating officer of Oman Cables (SAOG) addressed the participants and expressed his appreciation to National Bank of Oman for organising this informative seminar.
